THE LA COSTA LIFESTYLE

It all began in the early 1960s when a real estate developer from Las Vegas discovered an equestrian ranch nestled in the coastal foothills of Southern California. He immediately saw the potential of what could be. Working with world-class architects from Beverly Hills and utilizing financial support from notorious mobster friends, the buzz began to build for what would become a sanctuary for Hollywood celebrities. As soon as La Costa started serving guests in 1965, its natural beauty combined with perfect weather made it an ideal location for an escape from everyday life. Originally conceived as a residential resort offering activities and instruction for all ages, the 40 units were available to guests for $22 per night which included green fees, as well as access to tennis, horse stables and the pool.

CELEBRITY SIGHTINGS

The resort grew in prominence as word spread of its acclaimed spa, championship golf courses, exceptional tennis courts and luxurious guest accommodations. In a few short years La Costa established itself as the top destination for the Hollywood elite; from tee times for Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin and Bob Hope to tennis matches between Charleton Heston, Johnny Carson and Desi Arnaz. The crown jewel of La Costa, The Spa was a refuge for some of the world's most powerful people including Richard Nixon, Jackie Kennedy and Chief Justice Earl Warren.

THEN & NOW

Professional golf and tennis tournaments settled into La Costa throughout the 1980s, ultimately hosting 37 PGA Tour and tennis events. La Costa has continued to attract guests from around the world seeking activities, wellness and relaxation. Today, Omni La Costa Resort & Spa is the premier destination in Southern California boasting two award-winning 18-hole golf courses, the title of “Top Luxury Resort Spa in San Diego” and more than 600 guest rooms spanning 400 acres.

FIRE SAFETY & INSTRUCTIONS

In the unlikely event of a fire, please familiarize yourself with the following information: Smoke detectors and sprinkler systems are located throughout the resort with a state-of-the-art system in place to detect smoke and fires then alert resort management. Resort associates are trained to respond in an emergency situation. A fire evacuation diagram is located on the inside of your guest room door with additional instructions.

Please take your room key with you if you are advised or decide to evacuate. With the back of your hand, check the door and doorknob for heat. Only open the door if it is cool. Shut the door and remain in your room if flames or thick smoke is visible. If the hallway is clear and safe, head to the nearest exit. Use stairs during an evacuation because elevators will not be operational. Once on the ground floor emergency personnel will provide further instructions.

If no stairwell is accessible or you must remain in your room, immediately dial Security at 4911 to notify them of your location. You may choose to dial 911 to notify local authorities as well. You can prevent smoke from entering your room by dampening a towel and pressing it into the base of the door.
